Reference Letter - for Jiajun Gu

To whom it may concern:

It's my pleasure to recommend Jiajun Gu, a student at University of California Irvine who is applying for Master's degree admission at your esteemed graduate program.

Jiajun completed an internship with MENTOR Global Consultants as Research and Business Analyst Intern under the supervision of Mr. Malek Moubasher during the following period:

Start Date: 6/15/2022

End Date: 8/9/2022

Jiajun worked throughout this internship on applying research methodologies, practicing data analysis, structuring research findings, and developing marketing and investment materials for an NFT Tech Startup.

During the internship, Jiajun and his team learned the importance of creative reasoning, problem solving and professional communication. He worked with his team through asking the right questions which led them to receive relevant information that they required to formulate solutions and compile their reports.

Also, Jiajun showed an appetite for learning new concepts, demonstrated his ability to work within a virtual team, and showed great collaboration skills. Jiajun was punctual, hard worker and passionate about his work.

Skills such as communication, research, analytical and critical thinking played an important part in ensuring his success.

Some of the tools that were used throughout the internship to store and present information are excel, slack, Microsoft PowerPoint, Google doc and google slides.

For more information about the nature of our internship program or more specific questions about Jiajun, please do not hesitate to contact us.
